Seven Moran gangsters were lined up against the wall of a ten-story building at 1228 North Clark street at 12:30 today today. Four men, two of them in police uniforms, stood before them, armed with machine guns and loaded all their guns. The sound of the machine guns burst on them and the seven fell, one dying at once, the wounds from being hit.

The shooting started not with the opening of a Moran firing squad, but rather by the police in the Capone-Lombardo alleyway. Shot at in pairs of men, it was also the most methodical as the firing of Capone's gangster company.

The dead, as identified by the police, were:

- GEORGE W. STANLEY, member of Squad. He died a few minutes after being hit, but not before he had thrown a brick.
- MICHAEL J. JACOB, with "holy" pistol.
- RAY, JAMES, son of "Boss" Moran, a 25-year-old boy, probably killed by a stray shot.
- CLARK, JOHN, brother-in-law of George ("Big") Moran, head of the gang.
- DAVID, ARTHUR, was with machine.
- FRANK, FRANK, brother.
