As everyone begins to adjust to the 'new normal', DILiS aims to support schools to enhance digital teaching skills whilst helping to nurture global citizens of the future.

They are looking for innovative schools to participate in a pilot to create a worldwide network of educators.

Teachers will engage in team teaching, ideas sharing, and the development of resources to support online learning and teaching.

Through DILiS we are looking for teachers:

- 2- to observe at least one lesson delivered by someone in another country (live or a recorded lesson)
