GwE NEWS AND INFORMATION

Mark Burns' Challenge for All!

29/06/2023

9:00-15:30

Venue Cymru, Llandudno

Audience: Primary and Secondary T & L Leads

Commissioned by GwE, Mark Burns, the author of 'Teaching Backwards' will provide a valuable insight into how to design and deliver effective lessons that engage and inspire pupils. The workshop will focus explicitly on the careful sequencing of the curriculum to ensure progression in learning. Mark's idea of 'backwards design' has proven to have a significant impact on student achievement and motivation over the years – a workshop not to be missed! Limited spaces – one representative from every school. To register, click here.

'Religion, Values and Ethics':

MAKING SENSE OF AN AGREED SYLLABUS, THE WELSH GOVERNMENT'S GUIDANCE FOR RELIGION, VALUES AND ETHICS AND THE HUMANITIES AoLE.

	Welsh-medium		18/05/2023		9:30-12:00		Virtual Meeting
	English-medium		18/05/2023		13:00-15:30		Virtual Meeting

Audience:

Teachers responsible for designing the RVE aspect of the curriculum. Primary, Secondary, Special and PRUs.

Purpose:

Religion, Values and Ethics is a mandatory element of the Curriculum for Wales. Schools, no matter their religious character, must have regard to an Agreed Syllabus and the Religion, Values and Ethics Guidance. This training will support teachers to develop their understanding of the main aspects of an Agreed Syllabus and the Guidance.

Please register for the course using this link.

Summer Term Network for 3-8 age range Practitioners

The network focus will be on:

- Developing pre-reading skills, early reading skills, as well as higher order reading skills.
- Sharing ideas on developing reading skills within provision areas, both indoors and outdoors, and across all areas of learning and experiences.
- Case study on one school's journey to developing reading skills within their setting

New research with GwE schools published – Assessing the range and evidence base of interventions in a cluster of schools

GwE is delighted to see the outputs of one of our collaborative research projects recently published in a peer reviewed journal, 'Review of Education' and in the British Educational Research Association (BERA) blog. This work was carried out with researchers from the Collaborative Institute for Education Research, Evidence and Impact (CIEREI), Bangor University as part of GwE's ongoing initiatives to focus policy and practice on more evidence-informed approaches. Click here for further information.

GwE Reading Projects

GwE has been working with researchers at the CIEREI, Bangor University to provide support for effective reading instruction in English and Welsh. Please see the structure of this support in a policy overview for schools. Schools are invited to join training for three of these projects:

RADY – Raising the Attainment of Disadvantaged Youngsters

RADY is an approach to closing the gap which directly targets a school's 'central nervous system' – its target setting, tracking and monitoring systems. Unlike most other strategies to close the gap, RADY is aimed at school senior managers and teachers. RADY was developed on the Wirral in 2013 as a direct response to a hitherto unspotted flaw in school systems, which, if left unchecked, helps to maintain the gap and thwart efforts to reduce it. Please take a look at challengingeducation.co.uk if you would like to learn more.

GwE is looking for clusters of schools who would like to express an interest in taking part in a RADY pilot project. The project is a long-term commitment by all schools in the cluster. The pilot will be available through the medium of Welsh and English. The pilot project is available free to participating schools. For more information and an expression of interest form, please email catherinemcnamara@gwegogledd.cymru.

WELSH GOVERNMENT INFORMATION

Performance Management in Schools – Changing the Culture

Welsh Government is developing revised performance management guidance to bring arrangements in line with other changes in education.

We want to engage with a range of practitioners (teachers, leaders, and support staff) from all phases, via online Teams meetings in May.

If you would like to join in, please complete this form <https://forms.office.com/e/UuLRNsNrsZ>

New Research - Mixed Attainment Teaching Practice

Welsh Government has commissioned new research to identify the extent of mixed attainment teaching and learning and where it is taking place in Wales. We want to understand the advantages and the challenges of different approaches, and what professional learning in this area would be useful.

While a great deal of research has been conducted in this area in other countries, very little has yet been done to offer a Wales-specific insight into mixed attainment teaching. We all recognise the importance of context in all aspects of education and would very much value your contribution to a study which will allow us to draw out conclusions and recommendations that will be useful for the education system and for practitioners in Wales.

Practitioners are invited to contribute to this research by taking part in this primary school survey or this secondary school survey that have been devised and are administered by a team of researchers from University of Wales Trinity St David in conjunction with University College, London. The deadline for completion is 21 May 2023
